FRANK TALK

by Marion Frank

Shakey's Pizza on Torrance Blvd. now offers piano music every nite . . . piano and banjo, Wednesday thru Sunday nites. John now also announced they now have 21 kinds of Pizza, including Canadian Bacon Pizza. What next, John?

There have been anniversaries, birthdays and celebrations galore lately: Madeline's Birthday party at the 488 Keys Sunday, the Sands celebrated their second anniversary with a party also. The Zebra Room had their anniversary party on Monday, while Annabelle's Seafarer will be celebrated Thursday. The Halfway House celebrated their redecorated Cocktail Lounge last Wednesday and the Insomniac Coffee House, under new management, and Love's Pit Barbecue both had openings on Tuesday. Best wishes and good luck to all!

Attended Love's Barbecue No. 13 on Monday evening and enjoyed delicious food and gypsy music. The interior is beautiful, especially enjoyed the fine oil paintings done by Mrs. Love, which adorned the magnificent birch walls. The barbecued bean recipes and sauce recipes developed by the Loves are soon to be put on the market separately. All cooking is done over a special combination of woods, to give the food a unique smoked flavor. The new Love's is located in the Rolling Hills Plaza Shopping Center, at the corner of Crenshaw and 101 Hwy. in Torrance, across from the Parasol Restaurant.

A special treat Sunday at the 488 Keys . . . Madeline's birthday party brought in artists to pinch-hit while she enjoyed chicken and some of her birthday cakes. Other organists I heard were Bob Morgan, Honey Ivers, Bob Moreau, Gray Wayne, and Don Hanley, who is president of the Long Beach Organists Club. Don Keefe, owner of the Harbor House in Long Beach, sang a couple of songs, and others, including my B.W.

The party was also attended by Madeline's 85-year-old father, who accompanied her on a mouth organ he recently bought in Germany.

At the Sands Sunday nite—the place was jumping at their anniversary party with music by Tommy Carlough and the band.

My B.W. and I heard Johnny Prophet at the Odyssey in Anaheim Saturday nite, and know why the disc jockeys voted him "Best Male Singer of the Year." He volunteered "I Want to Be Around" for us, which we enjoyed. We were asked to attend a recording session on Monday nite (which I'd liked) including Frank Sinatra, Dinah Shore, Johnny and other Reprise Recording artists. Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney just joined this fine group for Reprise. But we couldn't make it because of previous local commitments. Thanks again, Johnny! Johnny is going to Frank Sinatra's Restaurant, August 25. Not for too long, I hope.

Sylvia Mora, who just arrived from the Dunes in Las Vegas and now appearing at Caesars, originally hails from San Francisco, where she launched her singing career at the age of 15 at the "Hungry I." This sultry songbird, who has lots of volume and style, pleased guests on her opening nite. I found out only today that she was suffering a slight cold, but looked for no sympathy. An interesting note is that her mother appeared with the San Francisco Opera Company from 1934 to 1938, and had great plans for Sylvia and operatic training and placed Sylvia in the Conservatory of Music at the age of 13 to 14. Then, quite unexpectedly, her voice changed into a huskier range so she took to the nite clubs. She's booked (Continued on Page C5)

The popular recording and TV star, Johnny Prophet and the famous Dinah Shore at a recent recording session, for Reprise Records. Johnny, who recently won "Best Male Singer of the Year" by disc jockeys, is appearing in the beautiful "Trojan Lounge" of the Odyssey in Anaheim.

SYLVIA STRIKES GOLD

Sylvia Mora who is currently appearing at Caesars, recently paid a visit to the Las Vegas Golden Caverns, the location on which Earl P. Dorr made his famous three day trip underground, the whole story of which is told in the book, Lost Mines of the Old West. Sylvia brought back some beautiful samples from the caverns and made friends with Charles O. Thompson, the present explorer of this amazing world beneath the desert. Thompson told her the legend of the cave and the fact that in recent months there has been a claim jumping and injunction have been filed in San Bernardino to eject the claim jumper. He stated that if this claim jumping had happened 50 to 75 years ago it would have been settled with guns, but fortunately none had to be used, as the sheriff legally removed the claim jumpers.

SYLVIA MORA the sultry songstress, direct from the Golden Caverns in Las Vegas, now pleasing guests in the beautiful Apollo Room at Caesars.
